Selenium Prerequisites

Required versions

The Aspire Selenium connector requires to have the latest instance of the web browser to be used, and its respective web driver.

The web driver only supports a range of browser versions, if the browser is outside that range the connector will throw an exception while trying to start using the browser.

Before installing the Selenium connector, make sure that:

- A supported web browser is installed on all the aspire nodes.
- A web driver that supports the web browser in its current version.

Windows or Linux

The Selenium connector run on either Windows or Linux. The web drivers include a version appropriate for each operative system.